

ALUMNI OF THE MONTH

Name: Judith Markham (Errick)

Year of Graduation: 1959

What have you done since graduating from Port Allegany High School?

I graduated from Houghton College in 1963. I then had a 52-year career in book publishing as an editor and a writer. I worked for Zondervan Publishing Company, Blue Water Ink (my own company), and Discovery House Publishers.

Since my retirement a few years ago I have served on the board of an international organization that works with writers and publishers around the world.

My husband, Robert, and I were married for 43 years, until his death 10 years ago from pancreatic cancer.

Where do you currently live?

Grand Rapids, Michigan

Who was your favorite teacher in high school? Why were they your favorite?

Frank Rackish. Because of his high school English classes I gained a love and understanding of language and literature as well as writing and critical thinking that gave me a foundation for my lifelong career.

What is your fondest memory of Port Allegany High School?

My years in concert and marching band under direction of John Moyer.
